Barbershop in Jungle Is Run by Hempstead Co. Boy

The following news story, reprinted from the Kilgore (Texas) News-Herald, is about Lynn Phillips, former barber in Kilgore, and a son of Gene Phillips, Route One, below Spring Hill.

Somewhere in Australia, via Courier, Aug. 24—Folks shake hands with lean, leathery old Phillips of Kilgore, Texas, who says with a smile "Seventeen years of barbering, suh, and never nicked."

Lyn operates the most advanced American barber shop in the far from where the Japs roam the jungles and mountains. You can find Lyn operating all day if you follow a road snaking its way through the hills and ting in the shadow of menacing mountains. If you look through the gum trees you may see far off the lumpy sea lap the shore, the stars which have more curves than a Browning's barrel.

Swearing and choking with dust, you turn into a fork humorously called a road and eventually climb a small tree, nestling under the trees. There you will find Lyn.

Rare Equipment. He was shaving Merlin Donoho, of Covington, Okla., whom you will remember once he swam 40 hours after his plane was shot down some months ago off Australia.

That "shop" must be seen to be believed. The foot rest is an empty soap box. The chair is a tree stump with two feet in diameter on which Lynn places an old parrot cushion. If a shave is needed, Lynn has a board wrapped in an old tent which is set at an angle and supported by a two by four stuck in the ground.

A razor, shaving mug, comb, scissors and three towels along with a basin compose Lynn's shaving outfit. But he boasts that his squadron is the best groomed American outfit and proclaims that it is he who keeps such famous pilots as "Buzzy" Wagner and others quite natty.

Lyn operates all day long but I noticed a gas mask and helmet was hanging by the towels.

If you ask for tonic or shampoo, you're likely to get a sock on the jaw. While he was cutting a six weeks growth of hair, Lynn told an amusing experience which came during the last Japanese air raid.

He was shaving Bill Bedford of Watertown, Wis., with Sgt. Jim Brown of Quincy, Ill., on deck when the Japs bombed. Bedford's face was all lathered and shaved half way around to the chin.

Lyn grabbed his helmet, dashed out to a nearby slit trench with the razor still clutched in his hand. Bedford, with the lathered face, was right of his heels.

You won't believe it, but that lather made me finish shaving him in the trench while the bombs were still dropping," Lynn said. "I wonder I didn't cut his throat."

Much Activity During the Week at Red Cross Rooms

Mrs. O. A. Graves, general sewing chairman of the Red Cross Production rooms, worked with the following daily chairmen during the past week:

Mrs. Jim Embree, Mrs. Fonzie Moses, Mrs. A. J. Neighbors, and Mrs. M. M. McCloughan. Pajamas for men in the armed forces are being made.

In the surgical dressing rooms Mrs. Terrell Cornelius, Mrs. Nick Jewell, Mrs. Carter Johnson, and Robert Wilson directed volunteer workers, who completed 2,263 surgical dressings during the week.

Mrs. C. D. Lester, general chairman, has received requisition papers for 125 pounds of yarn which will be distributed by Mrs. Arch Moore, knitting chairman, for the knitting of sweaters, scarfs, gloves, and helmets for men in both the army and navy. Mrs. Moore will notify knitters of the distribution date through this column.

Rose Club Luncheon is every Friday.

To begin activities of the new club year, members of the Rose Garden club assembled at the home of Mrs. Harry Shiver Friday at 12:30 for luncheon party.

Luncheon was served in the dining room from one large table and two smaller tables. In the center of the tables were crystal baskets filled with pink roses and maiden hair fern and each cover was placed white pottery bowls filled with mixed garden flowers. These were given as favors to the 15 members and one guest attending.

The guest speaker, Mrs. W. R. Hamilton, who talked on "Making Life's Garden," was introduced by the president, Mrs. Seava Gibson. A short business session preceded the interesting program.

Miss Montex Elmore departs Sunday for Arkansas to enter Quinlan college. She will be a junior.

Mrs. Jack Ambrose arrives Sunday from Phoenix, Ariz., to spend a month with Mrs. H. C. Whitworth, while Lt. Ambrose is stationed at a glider school in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Moore and daughter, Dorothy, have gone to St. Louis for a visit with their son and brother, First Sgt. Dick Moore, who is stationed at Jefferson Barracks.

Paul Palmer of Shreveport spent Friday in the city. He was enroute to Houston, where he will be a senior at Rice Institute.

Miss Billy Jean Hood of Hot Springs is the house guest of Miss Jessie Clarke Brown.

Mrs. Basil York of Pine Bluff was a Friday visitor in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Jones and son, Clinton, are returning from a motor trip to Galveston, Houston and College Station. Clinton Jones will return September 20 to enter Texas A. and M.

No Doubt That Hitler Will Be Beaten Eventually

Control of Seas, Allied Resources to Decide War

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Wide World Feature Writer

(Note to Editors: Next Monday being a national holiday, there will be no "The War Today" column.)

What's going to beat Hitler in the long run—and never doubt that this throw-back to barbarism is going to be smashed—will be the allied overwhelming resources of all sorts, coupled with their control of the seas over which those resources must be moved to the theaters of battle.

Therefore, the disclosure that the past two months have produced record-breaking destruction of U-boats, and a sensational drop in sinkings of merchant ships in the western Atlantic, is great news for the United Nations.

The importance of control of the seas has been cited in this column numerous times, but it is so vital that it is worth repeating. Without that domination we would lack adequate means of moving our resources, and our mountainous production would be love's labor lost.

Machineguns aren't much use to hard-pressed Yankee soldiers in, say, the Middle East.

For anxious months we seemed to be losing the battle of the Atlantic. From January right through June of this year the sinking of brave ships by Hitler's sea-wolves went up by leaps and bounds. An Associated Press tabulation of announced sinkings showed that some 381 were sent to the bottom at that time, and close to 3,000 seamen were lost.

The victims of submarines rose steadily from 21 in January to a terrible peak of 109 in June. The shipyarders were outdistanced in their efforts to keep the ships coming. A drop to 45 sinkings in July, and a further slump to 23 for August.

A few days ago Rear Admiral Henry S. Land said American shipyard production was slowly but surely getting the edge on the submarine activity. And Captain Leland P. Lovett, Navy public relations director, said that in the first time since January and February the nation's shipyards in July built more ships than were sunk.

Now along comes British First Lord of the Admiralty Alexander and adds an illuminating chapter to the above. He says July and August were record-breaking months for the destruction of Axis submarines.

Moreover, Britain's heavy warship losses—the Admiralty already has announced the loss of 423, big battleships—have been virtually wiped out by British shipyarders. And that's a feat of vast importance, because it takes a mighty fleet of fighting ships to act as convoys and patrol and hunt down U-boats.

America's task at sea has been eased. Our Navy has been equipped with new ships in coastal waters and in the Caribbean. Yankee, Canadian and British airplane patrols have been working together, and a huge fleet of small craft, pleasure boats, innumerable one-time pleasure boats, are scouting for U-boats.

On the face of it Hitler's seapack seems to have taken a nasty knock. However, Secretary of the Navy Knox has had a word of caution for those who jumped to the conclusion that all was well. Said he: "This thing is not by any means solved. It is a long job and we may never lick it completely, but I believe we can reduce it substantially so that it will not interfere with victory in the war."

Parker Is in Playoff Match

By GAYLE TALBOT
New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The national tennis championships approached the pay-off stage at Forest Hills today with the playing of semi-finals matches in both the men's and women's divisions.

Pancho Segura of Ecuador faced Frankie Parker of Los Angeles in the upper half of men's play, with Ted Schroeder, Jr., of Glendale, Calif., and Lieut. Gardner Mulloy of Jacksonville, Fla., colliding in the opposite bracket.

In the women's department, favorite Louise Brough of Veberville Hills, sailed into little Helen Bernhardt of New York City, while Pauline Betz of Los Angeles met Margaret Osborne of San Francisco. Practically all the talk in the club house last night was about the Parker-Segura match, with opinion closely divided on the outcome.

Probably a slim majority—which included this observer—favored the 27-year-old Parker.

An extra-special treat for the stadium fans today was to be a genuine pageant celebrating the 50th anniversary of the founding of the West Side Tennis Club, host club to the national championships.
